Additional information: These sandals come from Isan in northeast Thailand. The attached decoration (wool bobble) was put on by the seller and is not part of the original shoe. The construction of the vamp on this sandal is very similar to that on China 8a and China 8b which are from Jiangsu Province in China. The front of the sandal is blunt and wide and has a very roomy toe bed. The general shape of the sole is similar to shoes from northern India.
